

Product information FOOT PROTECTIVE GEL

Foot protection gel with artemisia and habanero from Swiss cultivation and cinnamon on the basis of an aloe vera gel.

What does Foot Protection Gel contain?

The Foot Protection Gel contains three different plant extracts:

1. an extract of Artemisia annua from Swiss cultivation. This is an annual plant that grows into a man-sized bush in summer and also feels at home in our temperate climate. Only the leaf tips are used. They contain 245 proven secondary plant substances, including artemisinin. A highly concentrated extract of the leaf tips with all the active ingredients is used for the hydrogel.
2. an extract of cinnamon, which is known for its protective and nourishing properties.
3. an extract of Habanero from Swiss cultivation. Habanero is a very hot type of chili and is therefore rarely used in Switzerland. Habanero peppers contain natural capsaicin. The pods are grown, harvested and processed by hand in Switzerland.

Foot Protection Gel protects and cares for the skin. This caring effect means that skin fungi can colonize less easily or only with difficulty. They adhere less well to well cared for skin. The formulation of the Foot Protection Gel was developed and successfully tested during extensive research work.

Hydro gel: Strictly speaking, it is not a cream, but an aloe vera-based hydro gel. This has the advantage that the Foot Protection Gel is not greasy at all.
